

Keith and his wife, Betty, were House Managers and/or ushers for many Village Players productions. Always there to help with work days, Keith contributed in many ways, but the most wonderful of his contributions was his happy disposition and positive outlook. He willingly put on the ten-gallon hat or the tuxedo to get into the spirit of the production, even though he did not appear on stage.

We will all miss his smiling face and his easy ways.