

Harrison Moore was one of our very first members, acting as stage manager for Yesteryears of Broadway, our first production back in 1978. Although he never had a starring role, you could always count on Harrison to be in the chorus, and he was especially pleased to be a member of The Quartet in The Music Man. He loved to sing and in addition to participating in our musicals, he was a member of The Clearlakes Chorale for many years.

One more thing that many of you may not remember - back in the dark old days when we did not own a building and produced our shows at Kingswood or the Masonic Temple or the elementary school, Harrison allowed us to store all of our sets and what furniture we had in the top of his barn. Many many trips were made to carry set pieces from the top of his barn to whatever building we were allowed to use for our show, and then back again when the set was broken. Without Harrison's barn, we would have had no place to store our things. Thanks, Harrison.
