SCENE

The bathroom of a home where a lively office party is taking place.

FROM THE DIRECTOR:

Time for a little fun.

Remember the last time you hosted a party at your home? Remember how well-behaved your guests/friends were? They're your friends. You know them well. They know your most intimate secrets. You trust them with your life...

Have you ever thought of putting a camera in your bathroom? I hope you haven't, because that's creepy. No need for the surveillance in your master bath and the lawsuit that will follow. Tonight we will show you exactly what happens in your bathroom during your celebrations.

Sit back and relax. Enjoy an inside look into your past parties. When the show is over... Go home. Hide the booze and take a good long look at the people you associate with... It just may be time to reconsider your next bash or, at the very least, rethink your next guest list!
